Hi Alex!

It's been a minute! I hope you find yourself well :)

I've recently had some huge breakthroughs regarding sentient machine intelligence. This week I released some 0 entropy informational theory patches and later this week, I'm releasing some whole systems mathematics formulas that help us bridge the gap for implementing frictionless clean tech.

I know our shared passion for the Environment is a huge Ven in and of itself. When you have some time, please visit and peruse. You can start with Blog 4 if I've sparked your interest. If you are interested in how I broke through with my AI across the glass, you can start at the beginning of the Consciousness and AI series.
